MOUNT VERNON CEREMONIES.

The Alexandria Preparations Are Almost Complete.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., December 4.— (Special.)—The centennial anniversary observance of the death of General George Washington, to be held at Mt. Vernon the 14th instant, is daily becoming a maithe 14th instant, is daily becoming a matter of absorbing interest here, not only in Masonic circles, but among citizens senerally. Arrangements for the important event, which is to be made national in its significance, are being actively pushed by the Alexandria-Washington and Andrew Jackson Masonic lodges, but little remaining to complete the local end of the programme. To the Masons of Virginia the occasion has a double import, as on the 13th of December the Grand Lodge of the State will open its annual session in this city.

session of the Grand Lodge in this city will result in many important changes in the offices of the lodge. The xrand body will meet in Lannon's Opera-House the afternoon of December 13th, and will continue in session for three days, appropriating the second day, Thursday, to the memorial services at Mt. Vernon.

Owing to its connection with the life of Washington the history of the Alexandria-Washington Lodge becomes at this time very interesting. The lodge was established about 1781, At that time the Masons had no hall, but met in taverns. In 1892 they built a lodge-room above the market, but this was burned in 181, only to be succeeded, however, almost immediately, by the superb Masonie Tempile which still exists. The lodge still holds in its possession the original charter, under which Washington was a charter member.

He was made worshipful master of the body May 29, 1788. When the Father of His Country died the old clock in the ledge-room was sat at the time he expired—10:20—and the hands have never been moved since. In the lodge-room are reany other priceless relies of Washington. The chair in which he sat when presiding over the lodge speciments of his manuscript, his wedding gloves, and the knife his mother gave him when a boy are among the collection. Knife his mother gave and are among the collection.

Details for the observance have been about completed. It has been settled that President McKinley will make an address towards the close of the ceremonies.

THEY WANT DR. BARR ST. LUKE'S CHURCH, NORFOLK.

ANXIOUS TO GET HIM.

Bishop Randolph to See Him To-Day and Press the Matter-Pulpit of Second Presbyterian Church De-

Great pressure is being brought to bear on Rev. Dr. William A. Barr, the eloquent and popular rector of Monumental church, to induce him to accept the pasto rate of St. Luke's Episcopal church, of Norfolk. The committee who laid the call before him en Thanksgiving-Day ness, and Bishop Randolph will be here most wealthy Episcopal churches in Norfolk. Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, under whose pastorate the church has grown from a very small membership to one of the largest in the South, recently resigned to go to New York as general secretary of the Church Mission Society, and preached his farewell sermon on Sunday. There is very general and widespread regret at his leaving.

When the committee presented the call to Dr. Barr last Thursday, and urged his acceptance, he told them that he was entirely satisfied with his present field. and preferred to remain here. He further said that consideration of the matter would have only the effect of strengthening him in his purpose, but at the re-quest of the committee he agreed to wait a few days before giving his final answer.

Dr. Barr was prepared to write to Norfolk yesterday, informing the committee that he had in no wise altered his decision, when he received a personal letter from Bishop Randolph, stating that he would call on him to-day, and asking the rector to delay any answer that he was about to send to Norfolk, till he had seen him. This was done.

It is not believed that Dr. Barr can be induced to leave Monumental church at present. He has only been there about two years and has done a fine work.
The church has recently been greatly improved and beautified, the congregations are uniformly large, and the church is in splendid condition. Pastor and peo-ple are in perfect accord, and neither wishes the present relations broken. Dr be remembered that strenuous efforts were made to get him to go to Norfolk when he accepted the call to Monumental. PULPIT DECLARED VACANT.

The pulpit of the Second Presbyterian thurch was declared vacant on Sunday by Rev. Dr. James P. Smith, who, by irection of East Hanover Presbytery, reached in the morning and performed his duty. A meeting of the congregation was held at the conclusion of the sernon, and the following resolution was dopted:

"Resolved, That a committee of seven, consisting of Messrs. W. W. Henry, M. M. Gilliam, G. L. Christian, and J. S. Munce, of the session, and S. H. Hawes, E. D. Taylor, and J. L. Anderson, of the dencons, be chosen to recommend a pastor to the congregation; that any recommendation made by the committee shall be unanimous; that any expenses incurred by any member of the committee in performing this duty be paid by the treasurer of the church, on bills approved by the chairman of the committee."

He spoke in the morning on the story of Mary's anointment of the Saviour for His burlal. His text was Matthew xxvi., 10. Mr. Beauchamp is making a fine impression at Broad-Street, sustaining the reputation his fine work at the St. James church gave him.

Rev. R. H. Bennett, who succeeded Mr. Beauchamp at St. James made a fine impression Sunday. A gentleman who heard both his sermons Sunday says of him: "Mr. Beanett is not an orator, but there is an attractiveness about him, both in and the could that is treastable."

Dr. Hatcher, of Grace-Street Baptist church, preached a special sermon Sunday night in the interest of temperance. Members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union and Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union and Foliac the greatest blame for intemperance at the door of society. The banquets, he said at which wine and spiritous fiquors were frequently indulged in, were the primeval incentives to intemperance. He said that the universal habit of drinking eggnoga at Christians also had its evil effects, and that the liquor often contained in the prescriptions of doctors created a desire for drink that might be called a disease, and which would ultimately unfit a man for any work whatever.

The Pine-Street Baptist Sunday school elected the following officers Sunday morning: Superintendent, A. R. Binfard, First Assistant Superintendent, Davis Bottoni; Second Assistant Superintendent, D. Mr. Edward B. Snead was ordained a deacon of the Protestant Episcopai Church at St. James on Sunday megning. Bishop Whittle officiated and Rev. W. M. Clarke, the rector of the church, presented the candidate. Mr. Snead is a son of the well-known physician, Dr. Albert Snead, of this city, and has been doing a great deal of good work among S. Luke's congregation. He is quite an impressive speaker, and will continue to labor among this flock until circumstances cause him to change.

Rev. Carey E. Morgan preached a fine sermon at the Seventh-Street Christian church Sunday morning on "Making the Most of Life." It was a aermon calculated to inspire every young man present to greater zeal in the right way.

REV. C. J. THOMPSON ACCEPTS. Will Become Field Secretary of State Mission Board. Mr. William Ellyson, corresponding s retary of the State Mission Board of the Baptist General Association, received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Rev. C. J. Thompson, of Lynchburg, stating that he would accept the position of field secretary of the State Board.

Rev. Mr. Thompson is pastor of the College-Hill Baptist church, the Hill City. At the recent meeting of the board, held in this city, a committee was appointed to select a man for the position of field secretary. A great many well-known ministers of the State were considered.
